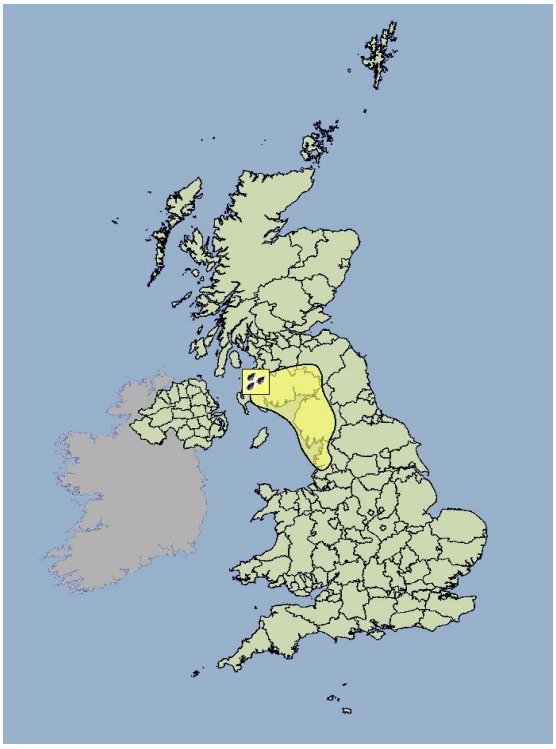
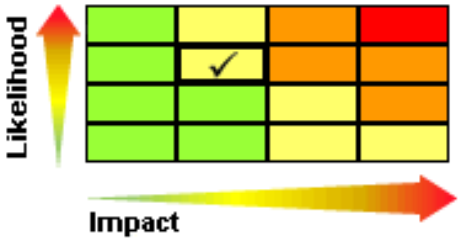
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An active weather front will bring a period of heavy rain this evening, coinciding with peak travel across much of the warning area. As a result, surface water and spray is likely to affect road travel.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 16:00 on Fri, 09th Sep 2016 until 23:55 on Fri, 09th Sep 2016

Please be aware that heavy rain this evening is likely to cause hazardous driving conditions, first in parts of southern Scotland and then across northwest England. The conditions may also impact outdoor activities.
